"Lord God of Hosts! be with us yet, Lest we forget, lest we forget."

Don't get mad at all the white people because of the few who have forgotten; we have friends among them yet and they are not all in the Republican party, either.

About 30 Negroes have been discharged from employment because of their determination to enjoy citizen rights. 60 men are wanted at Fort Caswell at fair wages. Surely God hath not forsaken us.

The matter of registration is worthy of deep consideration by the Republican voters of this city and county. Every ruse known to the Democratic party will be tried to head off the majority that should swell out for the Republican ticket in this election and if the voters do not register there will be no need worrying about the result. The Republicans will lose through their own carelessness.

There are many conservative white men in this city who say it is no crime for them to register and vote, then surely it is no crime for their servants to register and vote. Every man in this country is a peer

When the time comes when the few must enter the rights of the many the Thomas Jefferson shall have lived in vain. He says that true government derives its power from the governed.

What is There to Fear?

The Democratic papers are urging the "Red Shirts" to put themselves in evidence from now on to election day. They have talked freely of forcing their way to election, and to those who are not familiar with the people of this city they get the impression that there is danger of bloodshed and riot. We say now as we have said: that there is no danger of this sort of thing. We have heard it reported that several rifles have been brought into this city to be used as a last resort for carrying the election. We doubt that any such thought has entered the mind of any honorable man from first to last. In the first place we ask in all seriousness who is there among the whole number that would make of himself a murderer for the sake of carrying an election, which if it goes either way, must give white men office? And if there were those willing to shoot or kill, surely they would stop long enough to think who it is that they would thus murder!

If Wilmington was the half civilized town some try to make it appear, there might indeed be danger, but such is not the case. We have here a class of people who delight in law and order, who will not lend aid to any act of violence and they are the ones who very largely control the masses.

The wealthy and intelligent men of this community are not the ones whom we may expect to engage in this business of disorder and bloodshed; then who will engage in it? Surely not the poorer class of white people who live either next door to colored families or at least in the immediate neighborhood? These can't be expected to engage in this hellish pastime at the instance of men who would incite them to riot in order that they, the office seekers, may be benefitted? No, oh no! Men are not led up to the commission of gross crime simply for the gratification of some one's else ambitions. They are even now counting up the cost of such a step, and it will be seen that, despite the howl that is being made, and the threats that fill the papers, sober, common sense will prevail and men who have lived in peace and happiness together as citizens, though differing very materially socially and racially, will continue their friendly associations to the end of the chapter.

If the suggestions given out by the hostile papers were followed up, who can fathom the depths to which this fair community would be plunged? Make this matter a personal question! Ask yourself: "What have I against my neighbor that I would seek to destroy his life or happiness?" Sober, honorable white people in this city, are not at all responsible for these threats, and happily they constitute the large majority of our white citizens. The danger is as great to them as it is to ourselves, for they know that if lawlessness ever begins, it will never stop at the point at which it was aimed, but like an avalanche will sweep ALL before it; and like "Caesar's Column", after they have destroyed the enemy they will then destroy themselves in their wild intoxication.

Rest assured that the conservative men will not let the law go right before the law. When the time comes when the few must enter the rights of the many the Thomas Jefferson shall have lived in vain. He says that true government derives its power from the governed.

A Story From Madrid.

London, Oct 20.—The Madrid correspondent of the Times says:

"Captain Aunon, the minister of marine, has received a dispatch from Manila, announcing a naval engagement between the Americans and the rebel, in consequence of Admiral Dewey forbidding the latter to fly the rebel flag from their ships. The dispatch adds that there were losses on both sides, but that the Americans captured the rebel ships.

The scene of the engagement is not stated, but it is supposed to have been in Manila Bay."

Russia in China.

London, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from Shanghai to a London news agency says:

"A Russian regiment occupied the town of New Chwang, (province of Liao Tong) and the forts at the mouth of the river Liaou on October 15, thus securing complete possession of New Chwang. The native troops fled without making any opposition, under orders from the Empress Dowager and Li Hung Chang.

"A British gunboat was in the river at the time. Its non-resistance is regarded as the virtual abandonment of the whole of Manchuria to the Russians and give Russia an invaluable strategic position. Great Britain is certain to lose the New Chwang trade, of which it has had eighty per cent."

Great Britain And France.

London, Oct. 19.—Sir Michael Hicks Beach, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking at North Shields this evening, announced that the government had opened negotiations with the powers with a view of securing to the subjects of the various powers the "right of developing the respective spheres in which each country is especially interested."

Regarding the Fashoda question, he said wished cordially to acknowledge the desire evidenced in his speech of Lord Roseberry and Herbert to help in the matter which might develop into one of the utmost gravity."

"The government is animated by the friendliest spirit toward France and does not wish to inflict humiliation. What we desire is fair treatment. Our work in Egypt is not completed. Africa is big enough for us both—for France in the West and ourselves in the East. Surely we ought to be able to agree to respect one another's rights and claims. I hope, trust and believe, that the question is capable of a friendly solution; but this country has put her foot down. If, unhappy, another view would be taken by France, the Queen's ministers know what their duty demands.

Holding The Fort And Invite Attacks.

Paris, Oct. 19.—The Spanish peace commission was unable to meet at the joint session arranged for today and the next meeting of the two commissioners has been fixed for Friday next.

Judge Day, president of the American commission, received a communication this morning from Senor Montero Rios, president of the Spanish commission, saying that advices expected but not received from Madrid made it necessary for himself and his colleagues to request a postponement of any further conferences until Friday next. A courteous reply was returned by Secretary Moore, in behalf of the American commissioners, granting an extension of the time of the next meeting as requested. The assigned reason for today's request for delay is believed to have been to allow an interchange of communications with Madrid and to formulate a final attitude on the Cuban matter. The attitude of the Spaniards, to be developed on Friday, will be watched with no little interest. Their alternatives are few, but pregnant. They may accede to the American attitude themselves assume the Cuban debt

Six troops of the Sixth cavalry, after the peace jubilee ceremonies in Philadelphia, will proceed to Augusta, Ga., for duty with the Second Army Corps. This will be the first movement of troops from camp Meade to Southern camps.

As to Intimidation disposition on the part of some employers to intimidate their employees by telling them their places will be taken from them in the event of their registering to vote, we take occasion to refer them to these sections of the Election Law:

"Sec. 41. That any person who shall discharge from employment, withdraw patronage from, or otherwise injure, threaten or oppress, or attempt to intimidate, any qualified voter of this State, because of the votes such voter may or may not cast in any election, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

"Sec. 42. That any person who shall, at any time before or after an election, either directly or indirectly, give or promise to give any money, property or reward, to any elector, or to any county or district in order to be elected, or to procure any other person to be elected a member to the general assembly, or to any official under the laws of the State, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and any person who shall receive or agree to receive any such bribe, shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor."

Every voter who has not registered is in maintaining your rights as free men, and no powers of intimidation should deter any one from doing his whole duty."

SCHOOLING OUTSIDE SCHOOLS.

Germany's Bands of Tramp Students Have a Good Time.

A bicycle tour last July brought to our notice a feature of public education in Germany which might wisely be imitated in this country. We arrived one day at Goslar, on the northern edge of the Harz mountains. The proprietor of our hotel was busy preparing for the coming of sixty boys. They arrived the next evening with their knapsacks, on foot, and accompanied by three or four teachers. In the large dining hall, after their bread and beer, brief addresses were made to them and they sang lustily several patriotic and folk songs. They were a lively but orderly company. Next morning they gathered in the public square, near the most ancient historic building in the town. The events of interest which had there transpired were recounted to them, and other songs were sung in praise of the Fatherland. We afterward saw them in various excursions in the neighborhood.

Such companies of students were often met with in the Harz and in the Thuringian forest. We learned that these "turners" are an important part of school life. The pupils come sometimes from the larger towns. The proposed route is out weeks or even months beforehand. The pupils draw maps of the region through which they are to pass. Its features of geographic, historic, literary and geological interest are pointed out to them. They are told what they may expect to see and how to see it.

Usually each pupil makes a weekly contribution toward the cost of the trip till the amount needed is secured. Of course strict economy is practiced and the expense is small. Often they sleep in barns or in large halls, covered with straw. They are instructed as to their outfits, and each boy carries what he requires strapped on his shoulders. They divide into several groups—one group marching as leaders, another bringing up the rear, another acting as scouts, and so on. They study botany, natural history, the roads and how they were made, the raising and moving of crops and many other things. They visit the homes where men famous in war, government or literature have lived. They learn poems associated with places. From such a journey, lasting from three days to three weeks, they return to their own communities with many new things of interest to talk about and much valuable information. They write essays on their travels and observations. This outdoor study in Germany is considered important enough to be made the subject of an extended report in a volume just issued by the English education office.

An Eel-skin Factory.

One of the strangest factories that ever existed, and what is more, handsomely for its existence, is situated in a quiet street in the neighborhood of London bridge. Here are prepared and manufactured various articles from the skin of the conger-pipecake eel.

The skins are manipulated by numerous complicated processes until they resemble and would easily be taken for leather, although of a more gelatinous and pliable nature. This strange commodity is cut into long thin strips and plaited very closely together for whip lashes, and to cover portions of the handles of more expensive whips. Certain kinds of lashes and harness-laces are also made of eel-skin.

This leather is almost indispensable in articles of this description, where flexibility allied with an uncommon toughness is desired.—Golden Penny.

A Coming-out Party—The man whose sentence has expired.

WARNED BY RATS.

Seamen Think It Prudent to Desert Ship When the Rodents Do.

Seven or eight years ago a schooner which had no name was deserted by rats while she lay in Milwaukee. Two of her crew quit immediately. The remaining two stayed on the craft. This schooner was blown ashore at Silver Creek, Lake Erie. The two men were taken off by a life-saving crew.

A more recent case of this kind was that of the steamer Idaho, which went down off Long Point, Lake Erie, last November. This boat put out of Buffalo just ahead of the hardest blow of last season. Once she was regarded as the finest passenger boat on the lakes. On this, her last trip, she was buffeted about for several hours. She pounded by Long Point, eighty miles northwest of Buffalo, and then her captain ordered her brought about so that she might run under Long Point for shelter. The rush of waves was too much for her. She was caught in the roll of the sea and she gradually filled and sank. Of her crew of twenty-one men, nineteen were drowned. The first mate and a seaman named Gill climbed into the rigging, where they remained thirty-six hours. They were finally taken off by the steamer Mariposa.

It was learned shortly after the wreck that just before the vessel left her moorings, a swarm of rats crawled over the hawsers to the wharf. This was known to part of the crew and four men deserted at the last moment.

Although General Miles is a younger man than most of the officers in the service at this time, he is much older than any of the men who commanded in the civil war. He is fifty-eight, while Shafter is sixty-two, Merritt sixty-one, Brooke sixty, Wheeler sixty-two, Lee sixty-two, Otis sixty, Hawkins sixty-three. In fact, there is not even a brigadier of note except that he is under fifty years old.

At the outbreak of the civil war, on the other hand, not one of the men who were to gain distinction in it was fifty. Grant in 1861 was only thirty-nine, Sherman was forty-one, Sheridan thirty, Schofield thirty, Hancock thirty-seven, Custer twenty-two, Mead forty-six, Hooker forty-seven, Thomas forty-five, Kearny forty-six, Kilpatrick twenty-five, Pleasanton thirty-seven, Rosecrans forty-two, Palmer forty-four, Logan thirty-five, Howard thirty-one, Buell forty-three, Slocum thirty-four, Burnside thirty-seven, Banks forty-five, Butler forty-three, and General Miles himself was only twenty-two.

On the Confederate side, Lee and Joseph E. and Albert Sidney Johnston had passed fifty, the former being fifty-four and the latter fifty-four and fifty-eight, respectively, but Longstreet was forty, Beauregard forty-three, Hampton forty-three, Bragg forty-six, Forrest forty, Stonewall Jackson thirty-seven, A. P. Hill thirty-six, J. E. B. Stuart twenty-eight, Hood thirty and Joseph Wheeler was twenty-five. Among the generals of the Union even he who came to be known as "old Halleck" was only forty-six when the war broke out.—Boston Globe.

The Tropical Beauty of Porto Rico. Edwin Emerson, Jr., a war correspondent, contributes an article entitled, "Alone in Porto Rico" to the Century. Mr. Emerson thus describes one of his rides in the interior of the island:

A cool sea-breeze blew up from the coast, and stirred up the fragrance of the tropical foliage covering the hills on either side of the road. Bright humming-birds darted about, and from the woods came the incessant cooing of the mountain dove, the paloma, relieved occasionally by the song of warbling vireos. My heart sang with them as I rode, and I felt altogether too well to worry about the fate hanging over my friend at Ponce, nor did I bother to think of my own uncertain destiny.

All round me hillocks—bushes were flowering crimson, and the stately sabino-tree, with its immense white flowers and silvery leaves, perfumed the soft air. It seemed to me as if I had found the loveliest spot on earth.

Automatic Alarm for Mines.

A Prussian inventor has patented an automatic alarm apparatus to indicate the presence of fire-damp in mines, a large metal funnel being placed over the coal, with a counterpoised aluminum plate at the top, which is lifted by the light gas and completes an electric circuit.

Buckwheat in Orchards.

Perhaps as good a crop is any to grow in the orchard is buckwheat. Its seed is so cheap, and the mulch its growth makes it so effective, that it more than offsets the poverty of buckwheat in fertilizing material. Where buckwheat is sown in orchards, the land will be made extra light and moist, especially if the last crop of buckwheat in the season is plowed under. The only drawback to this is that growing buckwheat leaves the soil bare, and in a severe winter frost may penetrate deeply enough to injure the roots of fruit trees. The peach tree is especially apt to be injured by winter freezing if the soil near the tree.

Fall Planting of Fruit Trees.

The majority of fruit trees can be set out in the fall with good results. After the summer's work is done the soil intended for the trees should be put in the best condition for trees by careful plowing.

Care of Milk in Furniture.

I have seen a great deal of milk spoiled in the furniture of dairy rooms which have been kept open at night. It was closed as soon as the milk was set away at evening, but the ventilation now, while it will not spoil the milk as quickly as in hot weather, results in the impairment of its quality.

Milk designed for the cheese factory or creamery is better left outside in the free cool air, than in any building where the circulation is shut off or is imperfect.

A great deal of second grade butter and cheese is made in the country, and the tendency of dairymen to leave the milk cans in the barn at night as soon as frosty weather appears.

Milk kept on the farm for twelve hours before delivery should be aerated as thoroughly now as in July. It is not a high temperature that always plays havoc with it, but the retained heat when it stands in bulk.

This danger can be obviated by making the summer care of milk a criterion for the whole year.

Make hay while the sun shines and plow while 'tis cool," is an old saying that should be observed. If the cultivator is kept going while the dew is on the grass in the mornings, and no grass cut until it is dry, it is much easier to cure it evenly and make a good quality of hay.

Earsache.

Earsache is such a common symptom especially in children, that domestic remedies are often used until the disease demands the advice of a specialist. By that time often great harm has been done, and perhaps serious consequences have resulted.

Dr. F. W. Hinkel calls attention to the grave significance of earsache and the importance of early treatment. Earsache in children may be the first indication of an approaching meningitis.

An earsache should not be passed over with a superficial examination, but the child should be given hot foot-baths and put to bed. The bowels should be freely acted on. Hot, dry applications are better than moist ones. It is better not to instill solutions of laudanum, morphia or cocaine into the ear. Opium, too, often mask the pain and conceal the real trouble. Delays are dangerous, and in case of approaching rupture the tympanum should be freely incised. No physician should ever hesitate to call in an aurist when in doubt.—New York Ledger.

AN OPERATION AVOIDED.

Mrs. Rosa Gaum Writes to Mrs. Pinkham About it. She Says:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I take pleasure in writing you a few lines to inform you of the good your Vegetable Compound has done me. I cannot thank you enough for what your medicine has done for me; it has, indeed, helped me wonderfully. For years I was troubled with an ovarian tumor, each year growing worse, until at last I was compelled to consult with a physician.

He said nothing could be done for me but to go under an operation. In speaking with a friend of mine about it, she recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, saying she knew it would cure me. I then sent for your medicine, and after taking three bottles of it, the tumor disappeared. Oh! you do not know how much good your medicine has done me. I shall recommend it to all suffering women.—Mrs. ROSA GAUM, 720 Wall St., Los Angeles, Cal.

The great and unvarying success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in relieving every derangement of the female organs, demonstrates it to be the modern safeguard of woman's happiness and bodily strength. More than a million women have been benefited by it.

Every woman who needs advice about her health is invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass.

TAPE WORMS

The tape worm eight feet long, at least one on the second after my taking two CASCARETS. This I am sure has caused me bad health for the past three years. I am still taking Cascarets, the only cathartic worthy of notice by sensible people.—GEO. W. BOWLES, Baird, Mass.

BULLFIGHTING IN FRANCE.

Failure of Another Effort to Introduce the Spanish Sport.

Gonzales, the torero, is making a tour in the French provinces with a choice collection of Landes bulls. He brought six out at the cycle rink of St. Dizier, which was nicely arranged as an arena. In the last course, an old bull, El Januto, was to be baited and seemingly killed. An old, blindfolded horse was dragged in, and its flanks presented to the horns of El Januto. The public at this piece of cruelty grew riotous, and insisted on the horse being removed. It was taken off with its intestines hanging about. The crowd, blaming the bull instead of the torero and his odrilla, insisted on that animal being killed. Gonzales did not like to lose his bull, and tried to pacify the public, but he had to avenge the wrongs of the horse. Armed with a sword, he stabbed the beast in the loins, driving the weapon in to the hilt. He then tried five times to give the coup de grace with a triangular Spanish dagger. Each time the blood spurted beyond the barrier of the arena. A number of men tore up seats to cast at Gonzales. Others vaulted over the barrier to thrash him. The intervention of the gendarmes enabled him to get quietly away.

During the last forty-five years attempts have been made to introduce the Spanish bullfights into France. The earliest that was in the year following the late peror's marriage. Arrangements were made for a grand corrida at Bayonne, and there was talk of performances under high auspices in a Paris circus.

But the bulls and bullfighters could not get further north than the Adour, such was the revolt of public feeling against them. To help forward the last Universal Exhibition, a concession was granted for a bullfighting arena in the Rue Pergolese. Nothing was wanted to give it Spanish color—not even caravans of gypsies. But the horses with trailing bowels, the baiting of bulls weary of being baited, the ferocious excitement of the Spanish spectators, caused the deepest disgust.

A French public was actually hired to keep up the confidence of shareholders in the enterprise, which soon wound up in bankruptcy. The late

Max Lebandy, having bribed journals and got around the Town Council of Maisons-Laffite, thought to naturalize

The man being rather modest, resented this demonstration and thrust her aside, whereupon the Rena gave him a "piece of her mind" in language at once forceful and eloquent. Her troubles multiplied when she was required to pay the costs yesterday afternoon to Justice McGowan who held her on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Mr. W. H. Baily the efficient Superintendent for the Peoples Benevolent and Relief Association reports quite a number of sick members but that they are paying off every claim as it comes in. This company has proven itself to be a blessing to our poor people who can, by paying a few cents each week have the assurance of protection in the event of sickness and decent burial in case of death.

No need worrying about what to have for dinner. Mr. Arie Bryant keeps every thing in the fresh meat you may want. His stall in Front street Market. Read his ad in this paper.

The Democrats are making extensive preparations for stump-speaking in all parts of the city, which will begin Monday night. It will be to the advantage of the colored people to avoid these places.
